

YOU'RE INVITED TO A ROUNDTABLE WITH INDUSTRY AND ACADEMIC EXPERTS WHO ARE ON THE FRONT LINES OF INNOVATION, R&D AND BUSINESS MODEL DISRUPTION

Pre-registration is required to this invitation only event

MAY 10

3-5 PM Roundtable Panel
5-6 PM Cocktails

at Atlanta Tech Park
107 Technology Pkway, NW.
Peachtree Corners, GA 30092

RSVP

For Sponsors

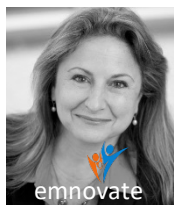

Category	Price
Platinum	$10,000
Gold	$5,000
Silver	$3,000

“INTRAPRENEURSHIP: HOW ELEPHANTS KEEP DANCING”

A Game Change Agency Roundtable
Co-moderated by Robin Bienfait and Pam Drew

THE PANEL INCLUDES LEADERS FROM COMPANIES ON THE CUTTING EDGE OF AI / COGNITIVE COMPUTING, BUSINESS MODEL INNOVATION AND TRANSFORMATION

Robin Bienfait
CEO Emnovate

Pam Drew
EVP, ITT Exelis (Ret.)

Nick Donofrio
EVP Innovation & Technology (Ret.)

Karl Iagnemma
President nuTonomy, Parent Company Aptiv

Cary Pappas
CEO FedEx TechConnect

Terri Fiez
Vice Chancellor Research & Innovation

Sam Valenti
Dir. Eng. & Technology Strategy, Space Systems

Lou Gerstner’s “Who Says Elephants Can’t Dance” was a harbinger of an era of technological and business model disruption that has led corporate America to learn to continuously re-invent itself or go bust. And in the fifteen years since, the pace of technology development and digital innovation has only accelerated.

Is innovation your enterprise’s friend or foe?

Are you innovating to catch up, to chase competitors or to lead the charge?

How does your organization track, assess and integrate technology development for a competitive advantage?

Are you watching, leading or doing a bit of both?

Do you partner with others in industry or work with universities or go it alone?

How do you decide which bets to make and when to “cut bait”?

Join us!

CONTACT Grant Lussier: 610 945 6433; grant.lussier@gcafirfirst.com

RSVP